TAFT will be daft when Teddy gets through with him.

JUDGE James E. Cantrill died at his home in Georgetown Sunday morning.

Secretary of War Taft will be in Louisville to-morrow night and deliver an address at Hopkins' theatre.

THERE will be something especially interesting about The Jeffersonian next week. So don't miss seeing it.

Roosevelt and Bryan, two of the greatest men in America to-day. Why not run them on the same ticket? There would be no contest.

It is said that the report about Caleb Powers being ill was a fake, and that it was made with a view to influencing a pardon for him.

STORE this away for safe keeping: Billy and Teddy will be the opposing candidates for President this fall—and the one with the longest nose will win.

THE Wisconsin Federation offered a prize banner to its Women's Club which should produce the most babies. The K. F. W. C.—"beg pardon!"—Harrodsburg Democrat.

Now, Mister Brown!

The time has come for the awful disease of spring fever. It may be a habit. If it is, it is a bad one. Suppose we avoid it this year by vigorously applying the remedy—physical exercise, and plenty of it. Now we can easily see where we may obtain all of this that is so necessary to cure this serious malady. The streets need cleaning, the fences and outhouses need paint or whitewash, and a hundred things we could do to get at this time of the year. Don't let the spring fever get a hold of you.

THERE is much being said about the night riders and why they are not prosecuted. Why are the American Tobacco Company and other trusts operating in Kentucky not prosecuted? The statutes provide a fine of from $500 to $5,000 for the violation of the trust law, and the Commonwealth's and County Attorneys seem to overlook another penalty which attaches to a violation of that law. Section No. 3017 of the statutes, we find this provision, which is as easily enforced as is the collection of a fine:

"Any President, manager, director, officer, agent or receiver of any corporation, company, firm or member, etc., found guilty, &c., may be fined or may be imprisoned in the county not more than twelve months, or be both fined and imprisoned, upon conviction in any court of competent jurisdiction." The tobacco trust is behind the many acts of violence now being committed by the raiders, and the officers of same should be put in prison, just the same as every night-rider who burns his neighbor's barn. The proper authorities should bring all law-breakers to justice.

HIKES' POINT.

Mrs. A. Huber entertained the following last Thursday in honor of her forty-sixth birthday anniversary. Those present were Mrs. George Fischer, Mrs. Philip Young, Mrs. G. Kinker, Mrs. Waulage, Mrs. Lensing, Miss Carrie Staehle, Mrs. John Frey, Mrs. C. Kaiser, Miss Theresa Fischer, Miss Ida Belle Kaiser, Miss Minnie Huber, Miss Marguerite Huber, Master Harold Young, Master Henry Fischer, Mr. Philip Young and Fred Kinker.

LAND, STOCK AND CROP.

Our subscribers will confer a favor by sending in reports of stock or land sales for publication in this column.

E. R. Sprowl has sold to W. T. Little lots No. 7 and 9 in Livingston Heights.

James Broyles, of Harrods Creek, has sold recently a three year old colt for $200.

G. W. Miller, of Swamp College, sold a fine mare mule, five years old, to Jade Pound, of Fisherville, for $200.

N. B. Johnson, of Fern Creek, has sold over 300,000 strawberry plants this spring for J. W. Jones & Son, of Allen, Md. The plants have been delivered in fine condition. He has sold something like forty tons of fertilizer for Morris & Co., Chicago packers.

Harrods Creek, April 6.—James Broyles has succeeded in raising an almost perfect specimen of Irish potato from the seed. It took about four years to get potatoes of the proper size, as the first year the potatoes were not much larger than a pea. These were planted the next year and so on until last year when he raised over one hundred bushels. What he calls Broyles' wonder potato, which has been noted in this county.

No Station, April 6.—Our neighboring village of Ashville is on a boom. Real estate is changing hands. E. C. Brentlinger bought the old home- stead of George W. Ash, deceased, then he in turn sold to F. L. Sims the tract of land belonging to the store of Mr. Sims, and also sold to Tom Ash the blacksmith shop site and 34 acres of land for a shop site for the sum of $700. Mr. Brentlinger proposes to make his purchase his home as soon as proper arrangements have been made to the house and other buildings.—O. G. Waliz.

A. T. Sherrill, Gradyville, has a ewe that has four lambs following her, and all doing well, and Sid Williams, of Halifax, Allen county, has a ewe that has dropped five lambs in thirteen months. Who can beat these two records?

Halden Williams, of Persimmon, Ky., cut down a big popular tree last week, and got five 12-foot logs and three 10-foot logs from it.

Statistics on file in the Department of Health in New York city show an astonishing number of fatalities among horses during the past year. The number of deaths is more than 22,000, from all causes, and this in New York city alone. Their places must be supplied for the farms.

There are about 200 dairies in Jefferson county that furnish almost the whole of Louisville's milk supply. Of these twenty-five in the city and 175 in the county. At Anchorage alone there are about seventy dairies. All of them are inspected at least three times a year, and a detailed report made on the sanitary conditions of the cattle, stables and milk houses and premises in general.

Lazarus & Patterson, Bowling Green, Ky., sold 48 mules and horses at $127.50 to $200, one load went East and one load went South. Mules of good age and quality are in demand; others not wanted.

J. T. Hackley shipped to Louisville 30,000 pounds of tobacco, his crop, which he sold to Mr. Kincaid, a Paint Lick tobacco buyer, for 121 cents per pound.

Experience has shown that the want of salt makes stock restless. If cattle and horses are not supplied as they need it they will wander, hunt old salted grounds used in previous seasons tramping the forage plants instead of eating them, pawing the ground, and in other ways injuring the pasture grounds and feed at their leisure.

No branch of agriculture has made greater progress in the United States during the past decade than has dairying. Dairying, instead of being an adjunct of farm work, oftentimes a losing one, has come to be a specialty and in the majority of cases a highly profitable one. And what most important, perhaps to farming prosperity in general, it has brought with it diversified cropping, and wherever practiced, increased fertility to the soil.

Afternoon Tea.

Afternoon tea, where more than the usual collation of tea and the usual small sandwich or cake is served is not considered in good taste. Simplicity is the rule for these informal functions and salads or ices make them appear what they were not originally intended to be—a formal reception.

THE JEFFERSONIAN.

Silent Places.

No-mans-land, (No-body's-land-and-ate).
Sure some of us school-boys have been through its blessed little we learned.
For we cared but naught about the lessons taught.
For our hearts for the brook-side yearned.

What cared we for a lone headmark, or badge of scarlet and blue.
'Twas more for fun.
After a ground-squirrel to run.
Or catch a bullfrog or two.

And then in grand old winter time.
When the snow fell soft and deep,
The rabbits at night
Would all get tight.

Next day in bed they would sleep.
Then Oh! what fun to roust him out
And help him scale the ledges:
Boys, you bet.

Can never forget:
Those deeds crown school-boy pages.
The master, too, would join the sport.
Our games he did enjoy.
And we'd laugh and dwell
At the tales he'd tell.

Of what happened when he was a boy.
But after we had gone to books
And hairs were hung up high:
We had to study with a whet.

For the master had an awful keen eye.
And I must confess if 'twas naught we learned
'Twas certainly no fault of his.
For the ideas new.

And certain, too.
We're ever ready with O. G. Waliz. Dingo.

Thanksgiving With Turkey.

Smymra, dear old SMYRNA, they cannot turn'er
And what's the use to try
She's wide awake, and has the rake;
So we must be quite spry.

They need not spur'm, they cannot burn'er
Oh isn't this too fine?
To see you go—no longer slow.
Always in the line.

Smymra, dear old SMYRNA, she has that attorney.
Or some one just as good
She's up and about, with a springtime about.
We almost knew that she would.

Just lead that band and I will stand:
I tell you truly now
To see you go—no longer slow.
And to you make my bow.

No wrong impression must be in session.
I love this little town
Near home of my birth—best place on earth.
'Tis village of renown.

Why do I love it well to prove it.
I'll add to what is said:
A love was instilled, a childish heart filled
With a love which is not dead.

It grew with the years, it grew with the tear
As well as with laughter and joy.
As time has flown, and I have grown—
But oh, sad thoughts—away.

We are so glad, that we have not had
Our Laor lowly laid.
We'll do our best, if put to test.
Even, if we aren't shade.

This lovely dead so young, so fair,
Called hence by thy doom.
Just came to see how sweet a flower
In Paradise would bloom.
Ere could harm or sorrow fade,
Death came with friend by care
The opening bud to heaven conveyed
And bade it blossom there.

Demphy-Clark.

Harrods Creek, April 1.—The marriage of Miss Demphy to Mr. Clark, Lee Clark was solemnized this evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Demphy, near Valley Station. The bride wore a lovely gown of white and carried a shower of white roses and carnations. A reception was given and covers were laid forth-thirty-five. Miss Demphy is the second daughter of Wm. Demphy, who owns the Demphy Lumber Company at Valley Station. Mr. Clark is in the real estate business. May their joys be many.

Limb Amputated.

Mrs. B. O. Flood, who was taken to St. Anthony's Infirmary in Louisville several weeks ago suffering with tuberculosis of the ankle, underwent an operation Tuesday last week. The right limb was amputated about three inches below the knee, and while there was no hopes of her recovery at first, it is thought now that if she continues to improve as she has in the past few days, she will recover. She has hosts of friends here, who are anxiously waiting the time when she will be able to return home.

Unfortunate Accident.

Okolona, April 6.—Quite an unfortunate and distressing accident occurred Wednesday at Burke McDowell's lively stable at this place. Earl Gordon, about 12 years old, and the adopted son of Mr. McDowell, was holding a horse while the owner was hitching it up. The horse seized the boy's check and bit a piece out of his neck. The boy was called immediately and said that if the wound had been any deeper the child would have bled to death. The boy will be disfigured for life as it is. The wound is healing very well at present.

Egworth League a Success.

The first devotional meeting of the Egworth League, which was held at the Methodist church here Sunday evening, was a decided success. A large crowd of young people being present and taking active part in the work. We can not say as much for the business meeting of same, which was to have been held with Mrs. Viola Howell Monday evening, as there were not enough present to constitute a quorum and no action was taken. The next devotional meeting will be held the third Sunday evening in this month, the program for which will appear in our next issue.

Old-Fashioned Quilting.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Christian church at Middletown had an old-fashioned quilting party at the beautiful new home of Mr. and Mrs. John Tatchell last Thursday. In the evening two beautiful quilts came off the frames, one of which will be sold and the other will be sent with a box of other things to Hazel Green College, where some of our mountain boys and girls are being educated. Among those present were Mesdames John Waters, Edw. Wittich, Lawrence Cox, Henry Frank, Sam McGlothlin, Leonard Jones, Geo. Cochran, L. Humphrey, Blanche L. Artburn, Walter Roman, John Tharp, R. L. Coleman, Wm. Owsler, Wm. Stockoff, Edw. Cox, and Misses Marie Clare, Mamie Artburn and Mary Owsler.

Ranaway Accident.

Swamp College, April 6.—N. B. Johnson was in a rather peculiar scrape the other day. He was driving down a little hill, when the mule fell, breaking his harness so that the breaching fell down to his heels and he got up running and ran for about a quarter of a mile, running two hills and down two. And there is no saying how much farther he would have run had he not been met by Newton Swan who, hearing the noise, ran out, and between the two the frightened "animal" was rescued. Fortunately, however, no one was hurt. After some repair work on the harness was made, N. B. Johnson was able to drive on home. Now we hear Mr. Johnson says there have been no more such accidents at Swamp College, but N. B. says "all."

MAKE IT YOURSELF.

Tells Our Readers How To Mix Best Rheumatism Cure.

A well-known authority on Rheumatism gives the readers of a large New York daily paper the following prescription, very simple and harmless, valuable, which any one can easily prepare at home.
Fluid Extract Danielson, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup, Sassaaparilla, three ounces.

Mix by shaking well in a bottle, and take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

He states that the ingredients can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy at small cost, and, being of vegetable extraction, are harmless to take.
This pleasant mixture, if taken regularly for a few days, is said to overcome almost any case of Rheumatism. The pain and swelling, if any, diminishes rapidly, and the patient's general results are obtained, and without injuring the stomach. While there are many so-called Rheumatism remedies, patent medicines, etc., some of which do give relief, few really give permanent results. The above will, no doubt, be greatly appreciated by many sufferers here at this time.
Inquiry as to the drug stores of this neighborhood elicits the information that these mixtures are harmless and can be bought separately, or the drug stores here will mix the prescription for our readers, if asked to.
